-The following complimentary reference to our fellow townsman, Judge David J. Baker, was sent to THE BULLETIN through the postoffice yesterday. While our correspondent is entirely unknown to us, we will offer him our "flat" on what he says regarding the judge:

CAIRO BULLETIN: Judge Baker has nearly closed a session of the Circuit Court in Vienna, Johnson county, Illa, and will soon return, we doubt not the welcome guest of Cairo, to his anxious family. This session of court at Vienna, has been very tedious, owing to the many little petty criminal cases on the docket But, amid the many perplexities of a bad cold, the judge maintained the same uniform, careful, dignified, creditable char acter of the honored citizen, accomplished gentleman and careful judge. Well may Cairo be proud of her citizen, and Southern Illinois yet honor, still more, her adopted son without exhausting his merits, and we bespeak for him, if he continues his present faithful discharge of high trusts, an enviable future. Nothing is more admirable in ones character than that self conquest which maintains a calm, dignified equanimity under all circumstances, doing justice to and foe alike, rising every petty iracibility and aggravating provocation, and with a noble and dignified accomplishment, in deportment and soul, that can season the severest justice with healing and saving mercy. Such qualities shine brilliantly beside the petty tyrant. domineering severities, and the torquestabbing, character-robbing, skin-flint puppet, or religious hypocrite and shyle ut-throat, or mere demigogical political cut-throat, and lickspittle scavenger. PROBABLE SUICIDE.

BODY OF A DEAD MAN FOUND IN THE WOODS OPPOSITE CAIRO.

The body of a dead man was found a few days ago in the woods in Kentucky opposite Cairo. It is supposed he either committed suicide or was killed by the acidental discharge of his gun. He lays, or did on Tuesday, about four hundred yards back of Mr. Cox's residence. # The shot that inflicted the fatal wound is described as having entered under the chin, coming out at the top of the headtearing away nearly all of the upper part of the skull. The body has the appearance of having been dead for five or six days. All the description we could get is that he was a medium sized man, heavy set, full face with chin whiskers. He appears to have been a stranger, as the parties who found him are well acquainted with nearly all the citizens of this section, but do not remember of ever having seen him be-

THE GILBERTS.

The attendence at the Athenum last night was not so large as on former occasions. owing probably to the very cold weather prevailing, and to the fact that the programme for the night had been changed. The audience, however, was select and one that could appreciate a good performance. We do not speak for ourself alone, for it was the opinion of every one with whom we conversed, when we say that Mrs. Bettle Gilbert Gray, is the superior of any actress that has made an appearance in this city for years. She has a clear, sweet voice, and perfect control of it. She could be heard in any part of the house, and that, too, without any apparent effort on her part to make herself heard.

In Mrs. Gray the company have gained an accession that will add tenfold to its interest, and we feel sure that from this forward the Atheneum will be crowded nightly. The play, "Camille, or the Coquette's Doom," was applauded by everybody present. Mrs. Gray, as "Camille," won the encomiums of all, while Mark Grayson, as usual, was acknowledged, in the rendition of the character which he s ipported, perfection.

To-night Mrs. Gray will appear in the great Irish drama of "Colleen Bawn," house will be filled to its utmost capacity.
